Rheumatism and Neuralgia

These twin diseases cause much suffering. Doctors admit that they are difficult to cure, so do their patients.

Paine's Celery Compound has permanently cured the worst cases of rheumatism and neuralgia—so say those who have used it.

"Having been troubled with rheumatism at the age of twenty-four years, I was almost unable to get around, and was very often confined to my bed. I used only one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and feel as lively as a boy." FRANK CARROLL, Eureka, Nevada.

"Paine's Celery Compound has been a godsend to me. For the past two years I have suffered with neuralgia of the heart; doctor after doctor failing to cure me. Now, taking only four bottles of the Compound, I am free from the complaint. I feel very grateful to you." CHARLIE LEWIS, Central Village, Okla.

Paine's Celery Compound

"I have been greatly afflicted with acute rheumatism, and could find no relief until I used Paine's Celery Compound. After using six bottles of this medicine I am now cured of rheumatism."

SAMUEL HUTCHINSON, So. Corin, N. H.

Effects Lasting Cures

Paine's Celery Compound has performed many other cures as marvelous as these. Please to take, do not doubt, but aids digestion, and entirely vegetable; a child can take it. What's the use of suffering longer with rheumatism or neuralgia?

JEWISH FUNERALS.

Curious Customs That Are the Same Now as in the Days of Moses.

In their funeral rites and observances the Jews have preserved many of the most ancient customs of their race, says the St. Jones' Gazette. They still rend the upper garments in token of bereavement, as Jacob did when informed of the death of his favorite son; they still seat themselves for seven days on the ground in sign of mourning as Job and his friends are represented in the Scripture to have done. They still eat the mourners' meal, as their ancestors did in Palestine; they kindle the memorial light to comfort the departed soul, as they did, in all likelihood, ages before Judaism was known; and they still recite in public the mourners' prayer, every repetition of which—according to rabbinical notions—helps the deceased a step further out of purgatory.

The Jews rigidly exclude all relatives from the chamber of a dying co-religionist. Only strangers should be present when the soul leaves the body. As soon as death occurs all the vessels in the house containing water are emptied. On the continent, in places where Jews reside, the emptying of the water vessels in the public roadway is the usual mode of notifying that a death has occurred. The practice had its origin, we gather from the rabbinical books, in an Old World superstition that standing water in such circumstances became the abiding place of certain evil spirits whose presence in the house was prejudicial both to the dead and to the living. In the interval between death and interment the Jews lay the corpse upon the bare ground with the feet toward the door. The body is covered, but nothing—save occasionally a little straw—may be placed under it. Then the two big toes are tied together. On Sabbath it is not, however, permitted to remove a body from the floor; it would be work. But as it is sometimes necessary that this should nevertheless be done, rabbinical ingenuity has contrived a means of accomplishing it without violating the sanctity of the day. A loaf of bread is placed upon the corpse, and the two together are lifted to the ground. It is held that when the bread has been moved, the law is satisfied.

Two or three hours before the interment takes place the ceremonial purification of the body begins as the toboggan takes place. It consists merely in washing some definite measures of warm water over the body, while repeating the words: "I will pour upon you cleansing waters, and ye shall be cleansed of your uncleanness; for of all your iniquities I will purify you." The body is then placed in the coffin, attired in a white cotton gown known as a kittel. This kittel is, in Northern Europe, presented to a bridegroom by his bride on the day of their wedding, and is worn by him on certain occasions, such as the Day of Atonement and the Passover Eve celebration. It is made by the female relatives of the bride, but she herself must not take part in the sewing of it. In Poland, Galicia, and in Russia the bridegroom always wears the death garment under the wedding canopy during the performance of the marriage ceremony. Besides the kittel, the body is enveloped in the praying scarf or talith used by the deceased during life. When this is done the relatives are summoned. One by one they draw near and bend over the coffin; a friend takes a sharp knife and makes a slit in one of the outer garments of the mourner—on the right side if the deceased is a parent, on the left if a child. The mourner himself then rends the garment according to the custom of the country. In the East the Jews tear the vestments clean across; in England it is only torn a portion of finger breadth. The torn must not be sewn for a month, and the mourning garment must be worn for a parent, fully eleven months. The Spanish and Portuguese Jews rend their undergarments as well. Except among the German Jews—as they are called—in this country, the last offices of the dead are performed by the members of what are termed "Chevrah Kadashah," or "Holy Brotherhood," an organization formed in every orthodox congregation only for this purpose.

Just as near relatives are excluded from the death chamber, so are females prohibited from attending a funeral or interment. Why this should be so it is difficult to say. The custom of excluding women on such occasions is certainly not an ancient one, since we know from the Talmud and later rabbinical books that, of old, women joined in the funeral processions of their people chanting dirges appropriate to the ceremony. However, nowadays they are not permitted to join, and the obsequies are attended by males only. In Northern Europe and in parts of Russia, a father is not allowed to be present at the interment of the first child he is unfortunate enough to lose. It is believed he will lose a second if he does; though this will not in itself suffice to explain the existence of so strange a custom. The Polish Jews are, however, peculiar in more than this. It is the universal belief of orthodox Hebrews that the resurrection of the dead will take place in the Holy Land, and therefore all bodies will have to make their way underground to Palestine before the Day of Judgment. So, to facilitate this task, the "Chassidim," or ultra-pious of the Jewish faith, will put a fork in the hands of the deceased when he is placed in the ground—for when he is buried in the case of a b'nei brith (first born), or a shoresh (one of priestly family)—in order that he may dig his way through the ground with it and thus reach the Holy Land, where the resurrection takes place.

On leaving a cemetery—which is known as the beis ha-midrash, "house of eternity" or beit ha-knesset, "house of life"—it is customary to pluck some of the grass growing there and throw it over the shoulder without looking back, repeating the words: "Lil meveth l'netzach" (He will destroy death forever). Primarily the plucking of the grass had no connection with the formula that nowadays accompanies it; but the original symbolism of the act is forgotten, like so many of the practices still extant in Jewry. On returning from a funeral the mourners take their seats on the floor, or on low hassocks placed upon the floor, and partake of the "mourners' meal." This consists of hard-boiled eggs and dry bread and salt, which is always prepared by neighbors and is arranged in readiness for the party upon a low stool. It must be eaten seated upon the floor, as indeed must all meals during the whole seven days of mourning.

Old Hickory on Sweet Temper. "I can not forbear pointing out to you, my de'r child," said General Jackson once to a young lady in whose welfare he felt a deep interest, "the great advantages that will result from a temperate conduct and sweetnes of manner to all people, on all occasions. Never forget that you are a gentlewoman, and all your words and actions should make you gentle. I am quick and hasty in my temper, but it is a misfortune which has caused me inexpressible pain. It has given me more trouble to subdue this impetuosity than any thing I ever undertaken."

One of the practical efforts of the Womens Christian Temperance Union is the introduction of the work of teaching the young the effects of liquor and narcotics on the human system. This important innovation in the curriculum of education was conceived only a few years ago by this Association, and by a persistent and united effort this body has secured legislation in all the Territories, and all the States except thirteen, which requires this branch of physiology and hygiene to be taught in the public schools. So great has been the power of the united societies, that the largest publishers of school books are vying with each other in the effort to secure the best series of books on this subject for the various grades of schools. Of all systems for effective work which have been inaugurated in the cause of temperance, none other has been so practical, and have brought and will bring about as good results as this last, that of teaching the millions of school children the effects of the banes to mankind—liquor and narcotics. Some of the States have gone so far as to require applicants to teach to be examined on this special branch of physiology and hygiene. These stalwart women realize and appreciate the fact that better harvests are reaped after sowing the seeds of education among the young than by sowing the seeds of reformation among the old.

SENATOR SHERMAN, says the Recr.-Union, proves by his manly utterances that he has Americanism of the right ring in plenty. He expresses the thought of simple justice when he says: "It was agreed with the Samoan King that the United States should have Pango Pango Bay for a coaling station, in consideration of which the United States should protect the Samoan Government. But the United States has been too slow in maintaining the rights of American citizens in Samoa, and in carrying into effect the provisions of the original treaty, by which the United States had agreed to protect Samoa from foreign invasion."

MANY members of the present Legislature seem to think that any needed improvement of the State Capitol building or grounds would be for the especial benefit of the Carson people; seeming to be unable to comprehend the fact that the people of the whole State have an interest in that property.

At Madison, Florida, last Thursday night, an attempt was made to assassinate Hon. Frank W. Pope, who was the Republican candidate for Governor of that State in 1860, and who has recently been giving the Democratic trouble by investigating their crooked work in the late election.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The Secretary of State, to-day received a cable from the United States Commissioner to the Melbourne exposition, saying the Federal Council of Australia has adopted an address to the Crown, viewing with deep anxiety, the recent events in Samoa, and favoring treaties guaranteeing the independence of Samoa, and also expressing the opinion that foreign dominion on the Samoa Islanders involves the safety of Australia.

FATAL SHIPWRECKS.

Crown Prince Rudolph Killed in a Duel.

GREAT FIRE IN BUFFALO.

Over Two Millions of Property Destroyed—Murder and Suicide.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.]

A Two Million Dollar Fire.

BUFFALO, Feb. 2.—This morning, between 3 and 7 o'clock, the flames destroyed fully $2,000,000 worth of property on Seneca street, Exchange street and adjoining streets.

The following buildings were destroyed: Hoffeld's leather and belting works, National Express Company's barns, Jewett & Co.'s stone warehouse, Root & Keating, sole leather, Sibley & Holwood, candy; Swift & Stambach, stoves; S. F. Egan and A. T. Kerr, wholesale liquor dealers; the Broezel and Arlington houses, Danbury Hat Manufacturing Company, T. W. Reynolds, shoes; J. E. Lewis & Co., wholesale grocers; Sidney, Shepard & Co., tinware; Henry Hern, candy; Fowler & Sons, carriages and hardware, and a number of other buildings.

The fire is still burning, but is under control.

A strong wind was blowing, and the flames soon had a good hold of the buildings. At 3:25 the rear of the six-story brick building of Sibley & Holwood, adjoining, caught fire. It contained nearly fifty tons of starch, which burned like tinder, carrying the flames over the fire building, and from there the flames were communicated to Swift & Stambach's and T. C. Reynolds' stores and the Broezel Hots.

The guests hastily moved their baggage.

To add to the difficulties of the fire men a sheet began to fall in torrents. The scene on Carroll street was appalling. On the north side of the street Sibley & Holwood's building was in ruins and the Jewett building was blazing from basement to roof. At 4:15 the walls of the Jewett block fell with a crash that fairly shook the surrounding walls. A frantic struggle was made to get out the horses from the stable next to the Jewett block.

By 4:45 the front of the Broezel house fell in with a thundering crash, the firemen in front narrowly escaping death. Despite the efforts of the firemen, Egan's whisky store was in full blaze. There was nothing to do but leave the fire to run its course.

By 5 o'clock the Seneca stores up to Shepherd's had been gutted. The fire extends from A. T. Kerr & Co.'s down to Sydney Shepherd's. All of Wells street was burned through to Exchange street, and the corner was burned out completely to the Arlington House. The fire is still raging, but under control.

The following are some of the chief losses: Broezel Hotel, $25,000; Egan's liquor stores, $30,000; Foller & Son, hardware, $40,000; fruit store, No. 143 Seneca street, $40,000; Sydney Shepherd & Co., hardware, $50,000. The aggregate loss is estimated at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, may be more.

Selby & Holwood, confectionery store, $125,000; T. W. Reynolds & Co., boots and shoes, $220,000; Swift & Stambach, stoves, $150,000; the Jewett building, $200,000; Fowler & Sons, hardware, $90,000; Root & Keating's Lock, $500,000; Rhoffeld & Co.'s building, $200,000; Arlington Hotel, $50,000; generally well insured.

The rear walls of the Arlington Hotel have fallen, killing one fireman and injuring another.

Killed in a Duel.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The evening Sun prints a Berlin special, which it says comes from a source above suspicion, which says Crown Prince Rudolph was killed in a duel on Tuesday by Count Franz Clem Gallais. The Crown Prince's witnesses were Count Hoyos and Prince Coburg, his brother-in-law. The Count's witnesses were Prince Ferdinand Kinsky and another nobleman.

The duel was fought at 4 p.m. in a little wood near Baden. The Crown Prince was wounded, and was transported to the nearest castle (Meyernberg), and died late in the evening, just at the hour when his coming was anxiously awaited at a State dinner in Holzburg. The Crown Prince had been paying attention to the Count's Clan Gallais, nee Hoyos, for the last six months.

It is claimed that recently, while on a shooting excursion on the estate of the Lady's mother-in-law, Count Clan Gallais surprised his wife in a compromising situation with the Crown Prince. The Count at once challenged the Crown Prince, which the latter, after consideration, accepted, and a duel occurred.

The whole affair has been largely suppressed by the Austrian court, but it leaked out through aristocrats who were compromised in the affair, and had to leave the country. The Emperor, who knew of the whole affair, has, it is said, fully approved his son's behavior.

The Dead Austrian Prince.

Vienna, Feb. 2.—The Official Gazette confirms the statement that the funeral of the Crown Prince will be simple, and that the services will occupy only an hour. The only members of any foreign royal family who will be present, are the King and Queen of Belgium. Emperor Francis Joseph appears to have aged years, since the tragic event. The body of the dead Prince is dressed in the uniform of a General. The Priests pray alternately beside the body. When Prince Phillip of Coburg and Loschek the valet, returned to the room in which the body lay after Count Haves had left for Vienna to announce the death of the Prince to the Emperor, they found that a burning candle had set fire to the cuff on Rudolph's right wrist. The Emperor has sent the following reply to President Carnot's message of condolence: I am greatly touched by your associating yourself with me in my grief and I beg you to accept my greatest thanks for sharing sincerely in my sorrow caused by the cruel loss with which Providence has affected me. The final announcement that Arch-Duke Francis is the heir presumptive, will probably be delayed, for legal reasons, and on account of the possibility of a posthumous issue of an heir of Rudolph's.

O'Brien Brutally Treated.

DUBLIN, Feb. 2.—Thomas Sexton yesterday telegraphed Balfour, Chief Secretary of Ireland, saying the treatment to which William O'Brien has been subjected since his incarceration in the Comel jail had excited intense disgust in Ireland. Sexton says that for twenty-four hours O'Brien has remained naked, and is now speechless. The prison officials, considering O'Brien in a critical condition, had telegraphed to Balfour for orders, and Sexton, therefore, urged Balfour to issue orders that the violent treatment of O'Brien be at once stopped. He warned him that public anger was rapidly nearing the point where restraint will be impossible. Balfour did not answer Sexton's message, and censured the policeman on duty at the Lodge, for allowing people to disturb him. Arrangements are being made for holding meetings in every place in Ireland, to express indignation at the treatment of O'Brien.

Bismarck Plays in Luck.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The Tribune publishes a significant interview with a prominent Democrat at Washington, which is in line with a Paris dispatch to the Associated Press last night, in which the same points out the singular coincidence of the mysterious death of Prince Rudolph, Gambetta, Gen. Skobodoff, King Ludwig of Bavaria and others, all of whom were persons whom Bismarck had occasion to fear. The interview points out that Rudolph was opposed to the ascendency of Germany in the Triple alliance and the fact of his friendship for Clemenceau and Boulangier were well known. It points out that facts have worked to Bismarck's advantage, through a most extraordinary series of tragic coincidences, and declares that Bismarck knew eight hours in advance of the attempt upon the life of the Czar, when with Louis Napoleon in 1867, but allowed it to be done, knowing it would prevent an alliance of France and Russia, which would have rendered the Franco-German war impossible.

A Horrifying Scene.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—A tragedy was enacted in the elegant residence of P. F. Munger, in the aristocratic suburb of Hyde Park this morning. George M. Clarke, a colored butler, and Tillie Hylander, a Swedish domestic, had a lover's quarrel, when Clarke fired three shots at the girl, wounding her, and then drew a razor and, after a fearful struggle, nearly severed her head from her body. He then cut his own throat; both are dead. The kitchen walls and floor were as bloody as a slaughter-house.

Bayard Talks.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Bayard said this afternoon that he had not yet received Bismarck's proposition for a conference on Samoa, but expects it in a few days. Bayard added that he wanted the fact made plain that Bismarck's instruction to the Samoan Consul to withdraw his demand for the control of the Samoan Islands was not a result of Bayard's telegraphic protest but on his own motion, as the instruction to the Consul was issued before the protest was sent.

Neverly Clipped.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—At noon the mob at Tenth street and Sixth Avenue tried to force a green driver from his car. A couple of policemen, after a hard struggle, drove the crowd back. One striker was severely clubbed, and had to be taken to a drug store for treatment.

Nearly the entire force of the police of Brooklyn are guarding the Fifth Avenue car line, which is running its cars. The strikers give no trouble.

A Double Explosion.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2.—The boilers of the tow boats Return and Two Brothers exploded this afternoon while the vessels were lying in the Allegheny river. Six persons are reported killed and a number injured.

Seven Persons Drowned.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The British bark Roseneath, from Dublin, while being towed to Clyde, broke adrift during a violent gale and was wrecked at Port Patrick. The mate, his wife and five seamen were drowned.

A Wrecked Steamer.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The steamer Lynnington was wrecked off Ilfracombe and ten persons were drowned.

JOTTINGS.

Silks, satins and sachet powder at Miss Gibbs'.

You should treat your family to at least one nice meal a week, by taking them all to the Depot Hotel for dinner to-morrow.

By getting your barber work done at C. Coleman's Arcade shop, you will always look respectable whether you are or not.

C. J. Brooks is keeping his candy factory in constant operation, and is turning out as nice an article as can be had anywhere.

Both Pacific and Fredericksburg beer, and a complete assortment of the best wines and liquors at George Becker's Granite Saloon.

The Riverside Hotel's Sunday dinners are said to excel any meal ever placed on the table of any hotel on this side of the mountains.

C. A. Thurston has a fine stock of canes of any size or style desired; also an elegant assortment of both autograph and photograph albums.

Don't fail to remember that J. J. Becker will to-morrow set out an extra fine lunch to all comers. He keeps both Booz and Sacramento beer.

The fact that J. Killeen is always able to keep the Fohrd House full of paying boarders is proof that his patrons are satisfied with his meals, room and beds.

If you want to realize what real comfort is, get into one of J. Belz's spacious tubs for the most satisfactory bath you ever enjoyed; after which, take a seat in one of his barber chairs.

Notwithstanding the fact that this is a dull time of the year, M. Cooper of the Pioneer Hotel, has nearly all the patronage he can handle. Give him a call and you will be sure to return again.

ALWAYS YOUNG.

Why my wife so precious in my sight? It is because she is always young, And grace and modesty are in her air! Neither, believe me, though she's very fair, She says and it with an earnest diction: "This growing old, I find at all a foolish sin, and must not we?" "Farewell, Prescription."

Dr. Piero's famous remedy of that name is, indeed, a perfect specific for "female weakness," and kindred ailments. By druggists.

Cleanses the liver, stomach, bowels and whole system by using Dr. Piero's Pellets.

Bucklen's Arsenic Nerve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sore ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and skin eruptions, and other diseases of the skin. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. Postage paid.

Oregon is one of the most productive States in the Union. Its vast mineral regions contain gold, silver, copper, iron and coal. Its immense tracts of grazing lands support thousands of cattle and sheep. Its agricultural regions produce all the cereals in abundance, the yield per acre being, in some instances, the largest in the world. Among the useful and valuable products of the state, there may be mentioned Oregon Kidney Tea, which has proved a boon to thousands afflicted with pain in the back and kidney difficulties. It is purely of vegetable composition and never fails. Sold by William Pliniger.

The immediate symptoms of Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, are a discomforting, aching, dry taste, and fulness in the stomach, loss of appetite, foul breath, belching, flatulence, nausea, pains in the shoulders and breast. Dr. Henry Danvers says: "Two or three cups daily digest and remove all unhealthy symptoms. Sold by William Pliniger."

FOURTH LEGISLATIVE WEEK.

A Review of the Work Done—How the Members Were Entertained Here.

CARSON CITY, February 1, 1889.

EDITOR GAZETTE: In reviewing the fourth week of the Legislature, an observer can only refer to a few incidents and measures that would be of any interest to the public in general. While it has been a busy week, and considerable legislation has been acted upon and passed, the laws have been as a rule amendatory and principally tend towards the reduction of county and local public expenses. This matter is receiving the close attention of the members from the several counties, and they seem determined to fix the salary law so that it will be within reason as well as giving the officer a show to live. The joint committee, which visited Sacramento to confer with the California Legislature, relative to the annexation and sawdust matters, submitted their report, the Gazette being the first paper in the State to publish it. Immediately upon presentation of this report Senator Osburn's bill covering the sawdust nuisance, was passed by the House. Although this bill only hit one or two Nevada residents living near Verdi, it was deemed advisable to pass the bill, showing the good faith of Nevada as far as the sawdust question was concerned. There is little or no hope in fact, regarding the annexation scheme. California values her territory too highly to simply donate several counties rich in timber land and farming country to poor Nevada; rather would our neighbors draw the boundary line at the western extremity of the great desert and take in all of our fine timber country, beautiful lakes, rivers and prosperous towns, adding thereby to her own wealth. An amusing feature of legislation this week was the passage of Allen's (of Storey) bill, prohibiting ladies from wearing tall or wide spread hats at places of amusement.
